FOREWORD

HOME is the expression of one's individuality. In it the beauty and comfort of life are most forcibly projected. This fact brought about the production of our Weathervanes, and their success has been in keeping with the modern spirit of home-making.

Architects, and builders of known reputation, have very generally included weathervanes in their plans and specifications. The demand for them has been increasing constantly, therefore, this booklet has been prepared to show you, as well as printed reproduction can, various examples from our workshop.

Our vanes are made of auto steel, carefully prepared; the designs are then "raised" by successive application of paint of superior quality, and finally covered with several coats of the best varnish.

The specimens shown herein can be supplied without undue delay, and special designs furnished promptly. Correspondence, relating to their construction, cost, etc., is cordially invited.
